Mueller hired as staff writer

Cheyenne Mueller, a 2011 graduate of Uvalde High School, has joined the Uvalde Leader-News as a staff writer. She will cover Uvalde Consolidated Independent School District news along with other news stories and features.

In May of 2015, Mueller received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Texas A&M University in College Station.

She served as film writer and assistant editor for Maroon Weekly magazine and comes to the Leader-News with other professional experience in writing, editing, and social media.

Mueller will take over many of the editorial duties of lifestyles editor Kim Eagle, who is moving to Colorado.

Eagle began working for the newspaper in July of 2013. She was promoted to lifestyles editor in June of 2015.

In addition to writing about the Uvalde Consolidated Independent School District, Eagle has covered Uvalde Memorial Hospital, Community Health Development Inc., El Progreso Memorial Library, Southwest Texas Junior College, Uvalde County Junior Livestock Show and Sale, Uvalde Convention and Visitors Bureau, Uvalde Area Chamber of Commerce, Relay for Life, Herby Ham Activity Center, as well as numerous other topics and events.

"Kim has done a fantastic job in her writing and editing positions with our newspaper, and we will miss her contributions," said publisher Craig Garnett.

"Like Kim, Cheyenne grew up in Uvalde and is familiar with our community and its institutions. We feel confident that she will continue the professional and creative work of her predecessor," Garnett said.
